

Hi, everyone! :)

Check out the additions to the Equipment and Services page. Any place you see the little blue magnifying glass icon, just click and a popup window will tell you about that item.

There is also a new item on the Recommended Resources page. Go to the Resources page and check out Hitchlitch.com.

Important! Jupiter Config File Update

The rest of this update is only of interest for those with a Jupiter modem.

I found a new configuration file for the Jupiter modems a couple of days ago, so I wanted to let you all know right away, because if the beam you are trying to connect to is one of those that has changed parameters, you may not be able to "find" the satellite. So, I would advise you to download the file now, so you will have it in the event you are having trouble locating the correct satellite.

Here are links to the two configuration files:

- Jupiter 1/HT1100 modem – Date is June 14, 2017
- Jupiter 2/HT2000W modem – Date is June 14, 2017

You can actually load the new config file at any time, but be sure to download it now, so you have it just in case!

See pages 44-45 in the latest version (v2.3) of the Jupiter Gen 5 Setup Guide for details about how to upload the new config file. You can also display the current config file and see the date.

For a Jupiter 1/HT1100 modem, see page 36 of the Gen 4 Setup Guide.

That's all for now!

Take care,

Barb

<http://www.MobileInternetSatellite.com>